

#NACA18 Showcase Preview

Here's a look at who will be performing on the showcase stages at the 2018 NACA® National Convention in Boston, MA, Feb. 21. Be advised that showcase lineups may change, with some alternates moving up into showcase slots by the time the National Convention arrives.

Club Showcase

TWELVE ATTRACTIONS WHOSE PRICE IS NO MORE THAN $1,250 are selected for this showcase. The single date price may be exclusive of travel, but all Block Booking prices must include travel. Club showcases include musical attractions, comedy, novelty and other artists. Attractions are listed in alphabetical order, not in the order in which they will appear. Alternates are listed in priority order, in the event any of the Club attractions are unable to appear. For the artists listed, pricing information includes the attraction's regular non-Convention price, followed by Block Booking pricing. All Block Booking pricing categories indicate the base contract fee and any additional expenses required (sound, lights, room and meals). Some states may require the withholding of taxes from contract fees paid to artists. Check with artist representatives to determine if prices listed include applicable tax withholdings. NACA makes no representation regarding such withholdings.

Carl Wockner MUSIC

Australian acoustic live looping performer, big hair, big voice.

Home Base: Nashville, TN

Single Date Price:.....$1,250+SLRMT
3 Dates in 5 Days (Block Price):.....$1,100+SLRM
5 Dates in 7 Days (Block Price):.....$1,000+SLRM
Contract On-Site Discount:.....N/A

Signature vocals, unique acoustic guitar work and engaging stage presence matched with a brilliant acoustic "live looping" style performance renders Carl Wockner in a league of his own. Currently the first and ONLY Australian artist to EVER win top honors at the International Acoustic Music Awards, he's also made it to the top of the AAA category and earned multiple other accolades, including ranking in the International Billboard charts. Wockner is no stranger to a good party, having performed for crowds ranging from 10 to 10,000, and as a headliner on tours and music festivals. Whether it's an intimate event or full-blown main stage party – Carl is the perfect musical weapon for you.

Emily Galati COMEDY

Relentlessly clever style, socially aware, and quick-witted comedy.

The College Agency

Home Base: New York, NY

Single Date Price:.....$1,250+SLRMT
3 Dates in 5 Days (Block Price):.....$1,200+SLRM
5 Dates in 7 Days (Block Price):.....$1,000+SLRM
Contract On-Site Discount:.....N/A

Emily Galati is whip-smart and not afraid to prove it. Known for her relentlessly clever style, Galati's routine combines sharp, short quips with longer stories tangling in recurrent punch lines. She brings a social awareness and quick wit to her shows, which may include riffing on a friend's home birth with a taut one-liner. She's been seen on "Conan," "Last Comic Standing," and "Comics Unleashed." Emily performed in the Best of the Midwest Competition at Gilda's LaughFest. She was a semi-finalist in NBC's StandUp for Diversity, and a finalist in the "Bob and Tom" Comedy Contest. She performs regularly at the legendary Zanies Comedy Club in Chicago. Emily was born and raised in Phoenix, AZ, where she enjoyed sunny days and swimming in December. She currently resides in New York City and misses her pool.

Chase Anthony COMEDY

I've lost a lot of jobs to be here today!

Home Base: Los Angeles, CA

Single Date Price:.....$1,250+SLRT
3 Dates in 5 Days (Block Price):.....$1,250+SLR
5 Dates in 7 Days (Block Price):.....$1,150+SLR
Contract On-Site Discount:.....N/A

Chase Anthony was born in Atlanta, GA, raised in Minneapolis, MN, and moved to Los Angeles after college. Chase's style of comedy interjects a unique perspective on life, relationships and family dynamics growing up with four sisters. But, he also deals with some tough topics, such as alcoholism and his absentee father. Sharing his experiences through humor affords him the opportunity to spread a positive message and make a difference. For the past two years, Chase has traveled the country as the opening act for the legendary comedian Sinbad. Because he has a day job as an actor, you've seen him on hit television shows like "Lethal Weapon" and "Gray's Anatomy." Look for him in the new web series "A Whole New Irving." Chase lives by the saying, "Let's talk about it." The ability to communicate what's in your heart is where freedom lies.

Irene Tu COMEDY

Comedy truths from a queer minority millennial.

KP Comedy Too
@irene_tu

Home Base: Berkeley, CA

Single Date Price:.....$1,250+SLRT
3 Dates in 5 Days (Block Price):.....$1,250+SLR
5 Dates in 7 Days (Block Price):.....$1,150+SLR
Contract On-Site Discount:.....N/A

Irene Tu is a queer Asian-American millennial comedian (so her parents are super proud of her). A graduate of UC-Berkeley, she started comedy in college and decided pursuing this path was the best use of her college degree. Irene frequently jokes about her childhood, what it's like being a minority in modern-day America, and her love of food. Named a "Woman to Watch" by KQED in 2016 and one of the Bay Area's "11 Best Stand-Up Comedians," Irene has been featured on Viceland and Seeso. She has never met Ellen, but holds out hope that one day she will.

Growing up in Northern Michigan surrounded by trees and dirt roads will make any kid a weirdo, and Jeff has no problem telling you about it. Jeff Scheen is the most adorable weirdo. His off-beat humor and affable demeanor pairs well with his expressive, yet goofy, face. Jeff has been featured on the FOX TV series "Laughs" and was a finalist in the 2016 Laughing Skull Festival in Atlanta. He's also been in number of other comedy festivals, including the Bridgetown Comedy Festival, Montreux's Jokenational Festival, Laugh Your Asheville Off in North Carolina, and Laughfest in Grand Rapids, MI. Hey, look at that! Jeff currently lives in Brooklyn, NY, and you can see him performing all around the greater area.

Maggie Maye COMEDY

3 Dates in 5 Days (Block Price):.....$1,250+SLR
5 Dates in 7 Days (Block Price):.....$1,150+SLR
Contract On-Site Discount:.....N/A

Maggie Maye loves candy almost as much as she also loves performing comedy. She made her late-night debut on "Conan" and was featured on "Last Call with Carson Daly" and "AXS TV Presents: Gotham Comedy Live." She's performed stand-up at Bridgetown Comedy Festival, San Francisco Sketchfest (as one of the Sketchfest Dozen), FunFunFun Fest, Moontower Comedy & Oddity Festival, SXSW, and the All Jane Comedy Festival. She's had her name in comedy articles in The Huffington Post, Variety, LaughSpin, The New York Times, and Splitsider. She performs improv comedy with her troupe, Damn, Gina!, and appeared in various sketch and improv shows around Austin before moving to Los Angeles. Her comedy is described in the same way she is: sassy, charming and smart. Also, a six-year-old once told her she was the funniest person ever. And kids rarely lie.

Liz Prisley SPOKEN WORD

Dynamic spoken word poet and educator who seeks to inspire.

Liz Prisley is a touring spoken word artist and educator active in the Tampa Bay area poetry slam scene for nearly a decade. She is the co-founder of monthly slam and writing workshop The Speak Tank, as well as education director for Heard Em Say Youth Arts Collective, a nonprofit dedicated to youth empowerment through creative arts. Liz teaches creative writing and performance workshops in addition to offering diversity and inclusion training. Her teaching methods across all subjects are always high energy and high engagement! Liz's teaching wiles have taken her around the US, as well as to Germany as a Fulbright Scholar. As a slam poet, Liz won the 2013 Brenda Moosey video slam, part of the Women of the World Poetry Slam. She has represented Tampa at regional and national competitions, including placing in the top 10 at Southern Fried, the Southeast regional slam, with the Speak Tank.

With a unique charm and generally ridiculous outlook on life, Marc is catching people's attention. A former university advisor, Marc enjoyed working with students but found that he was much better at making them laugh than giving them career advice. Finally deciding to follow the advice he had given to his students, he decided to follow his passion. His mix of stand-up and storytelling has made him a popular act at clubs and a college favorite across the country. In 2013, Marc was listed in Campus Activities Magazine's Hot Comedy Acts to Catch and was nominated as a Reader's Choice Best Small Venue Performer in 2016. "Marc was hilarious and I now know what sound an owl makes." – Elgin Air Force Base. "Marc was entertaining and appropriate, which can be hard to find these days in a college-humor comic." – East Carolina University. marclamotte.com

Home Base: Detroit, MI

Single Date Price:.....$1,500+RMT
3 Dates in 5 Days (Block Price):.....$1,300+RM
5 Dates in 7 Days (Block Price):.....$1,200+RM
Contract On-Site Discount:.....N/A

At 19, Deonte Osayande was exposed to creative writing for the first time in an entry level class at the University of Detroit-Mercy. At the time, his main focus and means of expression was as a track and field sprinter for the university. A year later, he attended his first poetry open mic at the university. Professors and peers would say, though raw at the time, his work showed an unbelievable talent with words for someone who had never really explored creative writing for most of his life. Now, years later from that first time, he has touched stages as a successful poet, youth activist, teacher, host and facilitator of events. As a performer, he has been a member of the Detroit National Slam Team and, in 2012, he won the title of No. 5 poet in the Midwest.

Sam Burchfield is a folk-soul singer based out of Atlanta, GA. After appearing on "American Idol" Season 13 and receiving a golden ticket to Hollywood, Sam turned the show down to pursue music on his own. He released his first EP, titled "Where to Run," on Feb. 4, 2014, a few months after graduating from The University of Georgia. Since the release, his EP charted at No. 8 on Billboard's Regional-South Atlantic Heatseeker chart and gained notable attention from industry professionals, as well as No. 1 college music blog GoodMusicAllDay.com. In his short career, Sam has shared the stage with notable acts such as St. Paul & The Broken Bones, Ben Rector, Josh Garrels, Emily Hearn and YouTube sensation Noah Guthrie. The Atlanta-based singer/songwriter creates a masterful blend of blues rock, funk and folk, influenced by the likes of ZZ Ward, Ray LaMontagne, James Morrison, and even early Jack Johnson.

In 2013, Jordan and Tyler shifted their attention from acting to music. After posting their songs on YouTube, they received invitations to perform on “The X Factor” and “America’s Got Talent.” Following this experience, they caught the eye of Alan Powell, actor, producer, and then vocalist for the band Anthem Lights. The twins released their first EP with Powell, which included three cover tunes and an original called “Falling Hard.” They have over 13 million views for their collaborations with Kurt Hugo Schneider and have almost 50 thousand YouTube subscribers. After a 25-city tour opening for Alex G, they most recently shared the stage with Hayley Williams (Paramore), Ryan O’Neale (Sleeping At Last), Joy Williams (Civil Wars), Brad Corrigan (Dispatch), Kevin Max, and Joanne Cash at the former farm of Johnny Cash. They live in Nashville, TN, where they are currently writing for their next EP.

The Icarus Account is an acoustic duo made up of twin brothers Ty and Trey Turner. The duo grew up in Fort Myers, FL, and have been touring full time since dropping out of school in 2009 to pursue music. Ty and Trey have released several albums, most of which they produced themselves at their recording studio in Florida. They have toured and performed with acts such as Twenty-One Pilots, American Authors, Plain White Ts, SayWeCanFly, Chase Coy, HeIsWe, Aaron Gillespie and many others. Many of their songs have been featured in TV shows and commercials and their single “Favorite Girl” was even used by Snapchat in 2015. The Duo use their brotherly connection to sing with incredible harmonies and an unmatched on-stage chemistry.

To say Stephen Neal is a fresh new face in country music is an understatement. In the last eight months, Stephen went from hobbyist songwriter and open mic enthusiast to independently producing his first EP and to opening shows on the big stage with artists such as Chris Young, Joe Nichols, Jana Kramer, Craig Wayne Boyd, Jason Michael Carol and Paul Rodgers. It’s his passion for lyrics that started him down this path, but he has quickly become addicted to creating music and shows that get a crowd moving and singing along. His fan base steadily grows with each new show because fans quickly latch on to Stephen’s enthusiasm on stage.

In the music industry today, inspiring and making a true connection with your audience is a lost art. This is where Lauren Light's story begins. She has the ability to connect and provide an unmatched energy and musicality like no other. Her sound is often compared to the likes of Adele, Katy Perry, Alanis Morissette, and Fiona Apple, but Lauren's style is defined by a unique quality all its own. On stage, she artfully crafts the perfect blend of rock, pop, storytelling and powerfully soulful vocals. Her performances have a way of transcending the typical expectation of what a live music experience can be, consistently showcasing something new and different with each set played. No matter the venue space, Lauren Light's music and performance remain powerful and true.

Afghani-Pakistani comedian Feraz Ozel provides crowds with a diverse and energetic brand of insightful comedy. Throughout his youth as the loveable fat kid, Feraz learned to see the humor in everything – even if he did have the biggest breasts in class and could see his toes only on a good day. Over the years, he lost the weight but kept the funny “guy next door” charm. In addition to comedy, Feraz is passionate about health and fitness and, as a certified trainer, gives fun and informative talks on exercise and wellness. But he still hates kale. Feraz was recently seen providing comedic relief on “The Doctors” on CBS, and is a featured act on Ahmed Ahmed's Next Generation of Evil comedy tour. He won the Funzine Comedy Competition in Budapest, Hungary, and was a finalist in San Diego's Funniest Person Competition.

“I’m an acoustic-soul storyteller...” – A statement that is notoriously followed by a quizzical look and sparked interest. There is an archaic and embedded familiarity that comes along with the word “storyteller” that captures the intention of Nico Franc's music, but would leave it naked without the coupling of “soul.” Although Franc is currently based in Los Angeles, he adopted his sound from growing up and traveling on the East Coast. Since dropping out of college in Savannah, GA, Franc has focused on developing his live show by touring solo, taking the stage with his full band in L.A. His shows have captured the attention and appreciation of many, including the saxophone player of Pink Floyd and Toto, Scott Page, and producer/bass player Colin Wolfe. On social media, his videos have even sparked the interest of pop star Shawn Mendes, and all before releasing his debut fully produced EP (coming in early 2018).

Lakin is a young singer/songwriter with a voice sweeter than honey, whose combination of genre-defying musical styles, stunning melodic gifts, beauty and warmth shine through in her heartfelt lyrics and powerful performances. She grew up in an entertainment-based family in Riverside, CA, and went on to major in jazz studies at Long Beach State. Lakin has cultivated a loyal fan base throughout Southern California, opening for such major acts as Sheryl Crow, Colbie Caillat, Brian McKnight, Sheila E., and Gladys Knight. On her debut LP album, "If Night Turns to Daylight," Lakin displays her multiple talents of writing, performing, arranging and producing. Her striking collection of songs represents a revolution of the spirit – reflecting themes that go beyond the superficial and into the deeper human experience of the reconciliation of the soul. Lakin's music is sure to penetrate not only the listener's ear, but also the listener's heart.

Dane's musical roots trace back to his parent's rich musical upbringing in San Francisco. Coming from a mixed-race background – Mom was a South Korean refugee and Dad was of European mixed descent – made for an interesting childhood based on jazz, R & B, and classic rock. Both parents played in various bands together all over the West Coast. Dane grew up singing along to bands like the Beatles, Stevie Wonder, Michael Jackson and everything in between. In 2017, Dane released his first solo studio EP since relocating to Los Angeles, CA. The album has been receiving praise across the board for its blend of musical styles and familiar, yet edgy, sound. The songs from this EP are currently being considered for licensing and placement opportunities in film and TV.

In the late 1980s and early '90s, Arno Michaelis was a founding member of a notorious worldwide racist skinhead organization, a reverend of a self-declared racial holy war, and front man of the hate-metal band Centurion, which sold 20,000 CDs by the mid '90s and is still popular with racists today. Single parenthood, love for his daughter, and the forgiveness shown by people he once hated all helped to turn Arno's life around, bringing him to embrace diversity and practice gratitude for all life. Author of "My Life After Hate," Arno travels extensively and is very fortunate to be able to share his ongoing process of character development in an effort to counter the cycle of violence he once perpetuated. Hate consumed seven years of Arno's life, and during that time, he saw close friends murdered and others incarcerated. Fueled by rage, Arno harmed innocent people, his family, and himself.

On a modern college campus, sex has as much to do with avoiding violence as it does with finding a soul mate. This program covers both sides of the equation. Rape (including date rape and statutory rape), stalking, sexual abuse, and domestic abuse are all discussed – what constitutes each crime, the penalties for each, how to report an incident, and strategies for avoiding victimization. The common legal issues that arise in the course of any person's sexual life are also explained – access to contraception, for both minors and adults, abortion rights, including the laws of parental and partner consent, and the sometimes strange statutes that govern bedroom behaviors.

Dylan Marron is a Drama Desk- and Gotham Award-nominated comedian, activist, writer and digital star. Dylan's first viral hit, "Every Single Word Spoken by a Person of Color," brought him to national attention, singled out by The Washington Post, Slate, and AV Club for its hysterical, diversity-forward message. Dylan then joined the staff of Seriously.TV, where he wrote, produced and starred in viral hits including "Men Kissing Men" (11 million views and counting), "Sitting in Bathrooms with Trans People" and the incredibly popular "Unboxing" series. Dylan is now an independent producer and digital star. His upcoming podcast with Nightvale – the Top 10 podcast's first foray into non-fiction – is called "Conversations with People Who Hate Me." Dylan is a hugely in-demand speaker and entertainer at colleges, pride events, and diversity programming across the country.

Nick "Sunshine" Tokman is a personal development and celebrity youth speaker who guides students to finding their desired direction in life. All too often, students begin their secondary education with little idea of what they want to do with their lives. Some lack motivation or outside influences might be preventing them from connecting with who they are. Students without a clear sense of purpose can become desperately unhappy, under perform, and drop out. Nick illustrates how to think creatively about achieving one's goals. He provides students with focus to persevere and finish their education and encouragement to get involved on campus and lay the foundation for successful careers.

A few embarrassing moments from Greg's life: In 1986, during a rifle assembly drill at West Point, he lost the firing pin. In 1988, his performance in an NCAA wrestling match was so lackluster the referee mocked him. In 1997, he was working as an account executive for Procter & Gamble. His biggest account put his product, Pringles, on the bottom shelf in 100 stores. In 2008, he was turned down for a Comedy Central special. In some cases, Greg used these defeats to fuel future successes. In others, he took too long to move on them. Greg's programs are designed to help students move past failure and on to their next big opportunity. He has appeared on "Late Night with Seth Meyers," "Last Comic Standing," "Comedy Central Presents," "The Late Late Show" on CBS and BET. He can be heard daily on Sirius/XM.

Being a college student is stressful! Getting good grades, being involved on campus, finding a job...the pressures that you face can be overwhelming. Hoan Do understands this. While attending Pepperdine University, Hoan found himself overwhelmed by demanding classes, extracurricular responsibilities, and important life decisions. He was stressed, suffered from depression, and contemplated suicide. Refusing to give up on life, Hoan learned how to positively manage stress and adversity, along with the skills necessary to succeed in college and in life. After graduation, Hoan beat out candidates older and more experienced than him to land a role as a corporate trainer for best-selling author and No. 1 life/business strategist Tony Robbins. Today, Hoan is the author of "Succeeding in the Real World," recipient of the Verizon Wireless Motivator Award, and city finalist in NBC's hit show "American Ninja Warrior." He travels 100-plus days a year speaking on college campuses on the topics stress management, college success, leadership development, and team building. Hoan's diverse programs are filled with practical advice, interactive exercises, and LOL moments. He's young enough to relate to students, yet old enough to share life-changing advice. Connect with Hoan and learn more about him at www.HoanDo.com.

Julissa shares her story about what it was like "climbing the corporate ladder" as both a Hispanic woman and an undocumented immigrant. While, to many, she seemed to have achieved the American dream, she wondered how issues of bureaucracy and status made her any less of an American. She discusses how this inner conflict, as well as the plight of the millions of other undocumented Americans living in the US, compelled her to leave Wall Street and pursue a career as an immigration rights advocate. Through Julissa's personal stories, audiences will gain a new perspective on what it means to achieve the "American dream."

Smile is an autobiographical one-man show about major clinical depression, suicidal ideation, and the loss of first love. But, it's really funny. We promise. Told by Clayton Raithel, a New York City-based comedian, registered nurse, and mental health advocate who has given TEDx Talks to thousands on the therapeutic benefits of comedy, Smile is the story of Clayton's graduation from college, when, for the first time ever, things just aren't going his way: his girlfriend dumps him, he can't stop puking and crying everywhere, and he's losing interest in everything in life. He's clinically depressed, and it's hilarious! Tackling head-on the scary but vital conversation about depression that college campuses need to have with humor, candor and vulnerability, Smile is a perfect blend of entertainment and mental health programming for young people. The show also includes a facilitated discussion on mental health with the students in attendance, led by Clayton.

He lived in a Buddhist temple in Korea; worked in a dress factory in Bangkok; farmed in a mud hut village in Africa; lived the life of a cowboy in Australia; and played a 19th century British soldier in a Bollywood movie. Andy delivers insightful and entertaining talks that artfully weave together themes of leadership, social entrepreneurship, travel and global perspective to help young people find answers to their most pressing (and often haunting) questions: "What do I want to do when I grow up?" "How can I find my place in the world?" "Can I change the world?" Andy's message to students is clear: "The distance between who you are and what you want to become is closer than you think."

For those who don't know Austin Moody, it would be easy to put him in the same category as many of today's chart toppers. He looks the part. And he has charisma that is infectious. But, at 25 years old, Austin has remarkable talent, depth and soulfulness that rivals that of many of the great country artists who came before him. He's a truly original artist, so it's not easy to compare Austin's style to any one individual ... so think Don Williams meets John Mayer ... very honest and real, but with a fresh, sexy vibe. Austin writes from the heart and offers authentic, relatable music. From Kingsport, TN, Austin stays true to his roots; he writes about what he knows and feels. On stage, his energy and spirit are contagious and he delivers his music in a way that is fun and keeps fans coming back time and time again.

Corey's love for comedy started when he was a toddler watching Carson (and then Leno) from a blanket on the floor next to his daddy, Dale. By second grade, he had already informed his teachers he was going to be a comedian and didn't ever consider another profession. At 16, he worked up the nerve to do his first open mic (lying about his age to be admitted into the club). Corey's stand up blends humor and common sense into a high-energy act that is as full of as many silly faces and goofy jokes as it is emotionally driven tangents. Under his PBR hat is a giant head, and under that are surprisingly thought-provoking rants on society, culture and politics.

Dave G is a Philadelphia-based spoken word artist, the product of Baptist preaching and hip-hop culture. He is a recent graduate of the Pennsylvania State University who couldn't care less about football, but still somehow managed to make a name for himself over the years. In 2015, he won "THON's Got Talent," a competition with an audience of 40,000-plus during the Penn State IFC/Panhellenic Dance Marathon (THON), the world's largest student-run philanthropy. In 2016, he won Best Poet at the Penn State Music Awards and performed for household names such as MC Lyte and Nia Long. In 2017, he became a co-champion at the College Unions Poetry Slam Invitational (CUPSI) in Chicago, succeeding over 68 international college slam poetry teams. Telling stories made him a hard child to raise. Now it's made him a hard artist to hate.

Hard of hearing since birth, D.J. Demers has never let his disability get in the way of his dreams. Inspired by comedians like Wendy Liebman and Jim Carrey, his clever, witty style of comedy will surprise you with lots of twists and turns. His stand-up profiles his perspective of what it's like to be hard of hearing and the fact that he doesn't see things any differently than most of us. It's a refreshing and inspiring view. He recently moved to the United States from Toronto, CN, and has already appeared on season 11 of "America's Got Talent." He has been on "Conan," was the winner of the 2014 Homegrown Comics Competition at the prestigious Just For Laughs Festival in Montreal, was a finalist in NBC's Stand-up for Diversity, and won Best Breakout Artist at the 2015 Canadian Comedy Awards. And yes, he also wears hearing aids.

Their recent acoustic session performances at Penn State University, Edinboro University, Harrisburg Area Community College (PA), and other campuses in the Northeast have quickly grabbed the attention of the college music scene. While growing their fan base, the guys have achieved soldout performances at prestigious New York City venues such as Irving Plaza, The Bitter End and Mercury Lounge. FBM continues to grow their fan base by making their performances a uniquely interactive experience. Contrary to the expected atmosphere of a live show, they've turned their concerts into all-out party events.

Since 2009, The Asia Project has toured over 550 colleges with an acoustic music poetry act that has amazed audiences all over the country. On the microphone is Asia Samson: writer, poet and part-time ninja. He has been seen on "HBO's Def Poetry Jam" and has shared the stage with such artists as Janelle Monae, Jill Scott, DMX, Mos Def, Dead Prez and KRS-One. Accompanying him on the guitar is his brother-in-law, Jollan, who uses music to create an atmosphere that brings poetry to emotional levels you would never expect. Together, they have been featured on "TEDx" and "Button Poetry" and have worked with companies like Disney and To Write Love On Her Arms. They have broken college-booking records for the most-booked poetry act, garnering them the awards of APCA College Performer of the Year and four-time APCA Spoken Word Artist of the Year.

The Boy Band Project is an interactive boy band cover group that reimagines the sound, movement and energy of the most fascinating musical convention. Featuring the music of NSYNC, The Backstreet Boys, Hanson, Otown, One Direction, Boyz II Men, The Beatles, The Four Seasons, and Jackson Five, all of us are direct from Broadway, from shows such as "Wicked," "Hair," "Cabaret," "Mamma Mia," "The Book of Mormon," "Altar Boyz," and "Rock of Ages." Previous venues include The Gramercy Theatre (NYC), Birdland (NYC), The Sounds of Summer Festival (Philadelphia), The O2 Academy (London, UK), Empire City Race Track (Yonkers, NY) and this year headlining at New York City and Washington, DC Pride. Each performance is a hilarious and nostalgic look at boy band acts from the 1990s and beyond, and whether it's a short surprise musical act or our interactive full-length concert, we'll turn up the heat and you'll embrace your inner super fan.

Los Angeles-based indie rock band The Wrecks root from Thousand Oaks, CA. Their single "Favorite Liar" has had extensive play on SiriusXM Alt Nation, was top 40 on alternative radio, and has over 8 million Spotify streams. Not bad for a debut three-song EP that was recorded for free while a friend was house sitting for a musician with a home studio. He still has no idea The Wrecks recorded there. They have supported Nothing But Thieves and All Time Low/SWMRS/Night Riots on tour. The group has an average age of 21 and consists of Nick Anderson (vocals/guitar), Nick Schmidt (guitar), Westen Weiss (guitar), Aaron Kelley (bass), and Billy Nally (drums). Heavily influenced by groups such as The Pixies, The Strokes, Weezer, and Vampire Weekend, this five-piece isn't afraid to blend undeniably catchy choruses with lyrics and vocals that have an underlying substance and a certain quirk that give them their young, signature sound.

Seattle six-piece Good Co is the United States' first live electro swing band. That new old sound, electro swing, combines the era of jitter-bugging flappers and underground speakeasies with the funky beats and the electric sound of today's dance music. At Good Co performances, it's quite common for such things as beat boxing harmonica jams, on-stage dance parties, and crowd sing-alongs to spontaneously break out. Good Co is proud to present this new genre to hep cats everywhere. Pounding dance beats mixed with gypsy-jazz guitar riffs, samples from the past turned on their head, along with a live horn section, make for the best sounding dance party this side of the 1920s!

EIGHT PERFORMERS ARE SELECTED to introduce each Mainstage and Club Showcase and to entertain the audience between acts. Through comedy and music, Master of Ceremonies attractions strengthen the overall showcase presentation and are allotted approximately 30 minutes of performance time to display their unique talents. Attractions are listed in alphabetical order, not the order in which they will appear. Alternates are listed in priority order in the event any of the Masters of Ceremonies are unable to appear. For the artists listed, pricing information includes the attraction's regular, non-Convention price, followed by Block Booking pricing. All Block Booking pricing categories indicate the base contract fee and any additional expenses required (sound, lights, room, meals and/or travel). Some states may require the withholding of taxes from contract fees paid to artists. Check with artist representatives to determine if prices listed include applicable tax withholdings. Matt Bellassai is the first social media star to pop from Facebook. He muses on pop culture, the Internet, and the struggles of life as a single, gay, would-be adult living in New York City. Most recently, Bellassai was the writer, producer, and star of BuzzFeed's "Whine About It," a comedic web series that drew an audience of more than 3.5 million viewers weekly. With more than 400,000 followers on Facebook, Bellassai also has a robust following on Twitter, Tumblr and Instagram, where his content has been viewed more than 125 million times in just the past six months. He is also the 2016 People's Choice Awards winner for Favorite Social Media Star and is currently on a live tour called "Matt Bellassai Live: The Drunk & Alone Tour."

Six Appeal Vocal Band is one of the busiest touring a cappella ensembles in the country. From coast to coast, the group has become known for their vivid musical style, unmatched energy and playful charm. Their far-reaching repertoire spans a multitude of decades and genres, including pop, country, classic rock, jazz, R&B, and much more. If you can imagine it, they can sing it. In 2012, they won the National Harmony Sweepstakes Championship, securing their place in the a cappella community. The appeal of these young men enables the group to perform anywhere, including college campuses, State Fairs, corporate functions, community festivals, theaters, and K-12 classrooms, and has even brought them into the national spotlight, singing for The 2013 Allstate Sugar Bowl live on ESPN.

Look who's coming back to NACA! After a brief hiatus to unsuccessfully run for Fidget Spinner Champion of the Universe*, Joseph Tran is coming back to fill the void in your Snapchatting, Tumblr-ing, Insta-whatever lives. As a magician who somehow manages to make magic cool – seriously, just ask James Corden of "Carpool Karaoke" fame, who handpicked Joseph to be his magic consultant – Joseph knows what you want to see today. He's got the same short attention span and access to YouTube that you do, which is why his magic is 100% pesticide/gluten/hack/unfunny-free and just what you need to inject some life into your campus. Joseph's show is guaranteed to get even the most sleep-deprived and overworked students to perk up – he's like a venti double chocolate Frappuccino with Adderall. You'll wonder how you ever lived without him.

Alex Ahn is a classically trained violinist from Atlanta, GA. Since starting the violin over two decades ago, he gradually transitioned from the strict structure of classical violin to developing his own free-flowing style stemming from the culture of Atlanta. Now, Alex has played all over the United States at private events, fashion shows, International events and at the House of Blues. To this day, Alex continually develops his style in ways people would've never imagined the violin to sound. Time and time again, Alex Ahn shows the violin can be whatever you want it to be.

Born in Mexico, but raised in the United States, Jose Barrientos has a background in the military and cyber skills that have helped him earn the pet name, "Professional Mexican." He is also quite the prankster. For an entire semester, Jose faked a typical Hispanic immigrant accent in his speech 101 class and videotaped it all. But what started as a prank quickly turned into a social experiment. Overnight, the video went viral, pushing the limits of social norms and preconceived notions of foreign culture. He now tours around the country sharing through stand-up comedy what he learned about cultural diversity behind the mask of a foreign immigrant. He's been seen on "20/20" on ABC and has performed for the military and colleges all over the country. Watch his videos at JosePranksyou.com.

The pop/folk trio Castro consists of Jason, Michael and Jackie, a brother-sister band from Dallas, TX. Jason became a favorite of judges and viewers alike on Season 7 of "American Idol," where he placed fourth. Jason went on to record acclaimed projects, while Michael wowed the entire country when he auditioned for "Idol" the following season and began releasing his own EPs. Artists confident, ambitious and skilled enough to incorporate sounds that were once exclusive or niche into sing-alongs for absolutely everyone have long made the best pop music. Castro falls into that tradition naturally. And while their record ("Diamond Dreams") may be proudly non-committal when it comes to genre, there is one mission on which all three siblings agree: making others happy. Their focus will undoubtedly remain fixed on the ways what they create can touch others. "That's our goal: to be that for somebody. To be the song."

Mary Lambert was given three hours to write the hook to Macklemore's & Ryan Lewis' anthem "Same Love," which hit double platinum. Lambert wrote this from her experience of being both a Christian and a lesbian. This led her to two Grammy nominations for "Song of the Year" and "Album of the Year" and an iconic performance alongside pop legend Madonna at the 2014 Grammys. Mary signed with Capitol Records, where she released her debut album, "Heart on My Sleeve." Her smash single "Secrets" launched to No. 1 on the Billboard Dance charts and went RIAA Gold in 2015. Mary isn't your typical triple-platinum selling pop artist. She's a brutally candid writer who deals directly in her art with her past: she was raised in an abusive home, attempted suicide at 17, abused drugs and alcohol before being diagnosed with bipolar disorder, and survived multiple sexual assaults.

Who goes from being a mild-mannered nationally recognized college a cappella group vocal percussionist to becoming a high-energy, intelligent, physical and downright silly beat boxing comedian? None other than comedian Tyler Boeh, who shifted his focus from singing a cappella (a word he describes as Latin for "without girlfriend") when he won a comedy contest in Portland, OR. After winning and placing in the finals of numerous comedy competitions from San Francisco to Seattle to Boston to The World Series of Comedy, Boeh not only launched a great career in comedy, including television appearances, colleges, and headlining clubs, he also found a girlfriend. Tyler's comedy CD was chosen by LaughSpin Magazine as the Best Comedy Album of 2012, and you may have seen him on such shows as "Celebrity Name Game," "Moms Rule," and "Nesn Comedy All Stars," or heard him on SIRIUS radio. After years of writing and performing locally as solo artists, Nashville's newest up-and-coming duo Scott & Chris are joining forces and bringing their eclectic show on the road. At age five, Scott Wesley was writing his first songs. By high school, he was penning contracts with labels, licensing music to Microsoft, and performing at SXSW. Growing up outside a small Kansas town, Chris Housman began his musical journey at age seven when he taught himself to play the fiddle. Growing up listening to everything from bluegrass to Motown, Chris marinates his diverse musical inspiration with small-town soul. Combined, Scott & Chris have years of experience performing at various venues and festivals, including over 150 colleges and universities across the nation. They pull some of their favorites from their wide variety of musical influences to create an energetic set that appeals to all music lovers.

Shane's poetry is a reflection of his personal life, put into tongue-twisting words. In his writings, he addresses issues of the inner city, including but not limited to race, violence, the uphill battle of love and his efforts in bettering himself. In 2010, Shane took second place in group finales at the national poetry slam held in St. Paul, MN. He has shared stages alongside many nationally acclaimed poets, completed multiple nationwide tours, and has taken on the world while on the international "Just Weight" tour. He was part of a traveling play production, "The Male Ego," and still provides work for hip-hop mogul Russell Simmons' YouTube channel (All Def Digital) and clothing line Argyleculture. In summer 2016, Shane broadened his horizons by taking his talents to the big screen, starring in the movie "Fight Your Way Out," which hit theaters in 2017.

Singer-songwriter Nick Fabian is the perfect combination of Saturday-night-at-the-club bliss and Sunday morning reflection. The young and promising artist throws it back to when the music mattered, while keeping it fresh with invigorating soul-pop hooks. It's an irresistible modern vintage aesthetic. Fittingly, the Nashville-based artist's debut, out on LoveGoodMusic, is called "Stuck In My Head." The Dallas, TX-born-and-raised artist grew up in a house of professional classical musicians. As a child, rather than hire babysitters for gig nights, Nick's parents just brought him to their performances with the Dallas Symphony. He came away from this upbringing with a firm grounding in music theory, and eclectic taste. Nick has emerged a prodigiously talented singer, songwriter, pianist, producer and arranger. He draws inspiration from Motown, soul, modern and classic pop, and classic hip-hop.

Peter recently undertook a separate project from his regular show that is becoming somewhat of a cult hit. His fascination with the supernatural, ghost stories, and the unexplained has manifested into his newest offering: Summoning Spirits. It's a seance meets magic show combining storytelling, multimedia and incredibly creepy magic for a truly one-of-a-kind experience. Peter's artistic excellence has taken him across the country. He's performed for celebrities like Neil Young and Tom Brady. He's been a guest on numerous local TV shows and on the national television show "Penn & Teller: Fool Us," where Penn described his performance as "beautiful." His vision is to create interactive theatre where you are immersed with and become part of the story, using video/multimedia, live magic effects and masterful storytelling.
